

AT HOME WITH DIDIAYER

Leading the program with her informative and contagious attitude, Didiayer sets out to share the diversity of American history, art & design, agriculture, and cuisine. From the big island of Hawaii to the Bluegrass State of Kentucky, she meets up with locals who share their various stories, talents, and “ways of life”. Along the way, she even meets with some famous faces such as comedian Jay Leno, world renowned artist Wyland, and country singer Phil Vassar.

Christopher’s introduction into the series is lived out through his passion for the great outdoors. He is always on the hunt to discover what excitement awaits in each town they visit! From off-roading over sand-dunes in Oregon, to feeding wild alligators in the Everglades of Florida, finding “local adventure” is what this fun-loving guy seeks to share.

Another compelling element to this season is that the family took to the open road in an RV, giving them the opportunity to share with viewers their passion for conservative living. For example, in the episode RV Living, Didiayer and Christopher share the pros and cons of living in such a modest space with kids. Also, viewers will learn the benefits of how this tiny home on wheels leads to a world of experience.

So no matter what the subject is or where the location might be, season two is sure to keep you intrigued while drawing attention to the people of this great nation and the places they call “home.”
