

CROSSING SOUTH

TRAVEL

SHOW

Crossing South- a travel series unlike any other- explores Northern Mexico. Energetic bilingual Mexican native and series host Jorge Meraz is the ideal travel companion to take viewers on an action-packed journey of discovery by revealing hidden gems south of the border. He also demystifies this fascinating and diverse country by introducing us to the people, food, activities, vernacular, customs, and must-see places of interest.

Jorge gives viewers a front row seat! He immerses himself in the natural wonders of Baja California as well as discovers the culture and history of the area – always accompanied by his infectious enthusiasm. There's fun to have and lots to learn by Crossing South!

Sample Episodes

Tacos, Beer, Horses & Soccer

Jorge starts off enjoying a selection of genuine Tijuana tacos. Later he gets up close and personal with trained Spanish show horses. Next on the agenda we learn about the beer fermenting process as Jorge tastes some samples at the TJ Beer factory. Lastly, we meet up with Tijuana’s professional soccer team, the Xolo’s, and root for them as they win the championship.

Ultralight, Baja Studios, Lobster

Jorge takes to the skies in an incredible ultralight airplane high above Rosarito Beach, then checks out Baja Studios where they filmed the Oscar-winning movie Titanic in the largest aquatic studio in the world. Next, Jorge has a feast of lobster at Puerto Nuevo, and samples other edibles of the region.

Guerrero Negro Whale Petting

Something very special happens in Baja every year – thousands of whales migrate here each spring making it some of the best whale watching on earth. Jorge visits Guerrero Negro, where we not only see whales, but pet them! We also visit the largest salt mine on earth located in the same town.

YOU'VE NEVER SEEN THIS MEXICO BEFORE!
